

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES ARMY V CORPS
1600 SPEARHEAD DIVISION AVENUE
FORT KNOX, KENTUCKY 40122

AEZE-CG

14 April 2025

MEMORANDUM FOR All Leaders, Soldiers, Airmen, and DA Civilians Assigned, Attached, or OPCON to V Corps.

SUBJECT: V Corps Standards

1. The Victory Standard: The V Corps Standards Book serves as a critical guide for all Victory Corps Soldiers, outlining the high standards of conduct, appearance, and professionalism expected within V Corps. Each member of the Corps represents the best of the United States Military to our local communities and our partners and Allies in Europe. Victory Corps top two priorities are U.S. Warfighting and NATO Warfighting. The principles and expectations within this book reinforce and showcase the discipline that enables us to focus on those priorities.
2. Professionalism and adherence to these standards are non-negotiable. While the 'Victory Standard' does not encompass every regulation governing Soldiers, it emphasizes key requirements every Soldier is expected to meet.
3. Upholding these standards is foundational to the discipline, morale, and readiness of every V Corps Leader and Soldier. These qualities ensure we remain prepared to execute our mission and assure our Allies. This readiness begins with individual pride and accountability. By taking ownership of our training, maintaining our equipment, and fostering strong teamwork, we lay the groundwork for success.
4. Our Corps' readiness hinges on a commitment to our understanding of the greater purpose of our efforts. Leaders and Soldiers must remain steadfast to doing what is right, even when no one is watching, and supporting one another to achieve our mission.
5. Every Soldier, from Private to Lieutenant General, is encouraged to read and internalize the standards outlined in this book. Together, we will continue to uphold the values and excellence that define V Corps.

It Will Be Done!

Victory!

PHILIP B. BLAISDELL
Command Sergeant Major, USA

CHARLES D. COSTANZA
Lieutenant General, USA
Commanding